

Laqueta Latore lived inside of a beautiful birdhouse that hung on a tree beside the riverbank. She loved to listen to the water as it made its way over the rocks. Laqueta Latore was a fairy and Fairy Headquarters had given her the title of

'The Listening Fairy.'

This suited Laqueta perfectly. She enjoyed hearing nature's sounds, but she also loved to listen to all kinds of stories about fairies - especially the famous ones who had created Fairy Headquarters and completed many special missions over the years.

